Grant Funding Priorities and Review Criteria

Oklahoma Arts Sector ARPA Grants are competitive. Funding priorities include: 1) arts-focused nonprofit organizations, 2) rural-based nonprofits that provide arts education and arts access, and, 3) organizations that serve geographically isolated areas, underresourced communities, and/or underrepresented groups by providing quality arts access and arts experiences to their communities.

The grant review panel will consider the following review criteria when evaluating applications. Additional consideration may be given to applications and organizations aligning with grant funding priorities.

- Arts-focused nonprofits: Organizations with an arts-based mission that is clearly outlined in the organization's most recently filed and signed IRS 990 form and/or in their most recent board-approved strategic plan. At least 51% of the organization's annual budget and programming must be dedicated to artistic disciplines and/or service.
- Rural and underresourced communities: Geographically isolated (rural) and/or vulnerable communities that have been disproportionately impacted by the pandemic.
- Demonstrated need for funds due to loss of revenue and organizational needs that have resulted directly from the COVID-19 pandemic (allowable expenditures outlined below).
